Capital Appearance—The Beatles performed for a youthful audience in Washington on the night of February 12.

Opening for Juniors—These college juniors join the Peace Corps' new summer project for six to eight weeks of training similar to that for regular Peace Corps volunteers. They later did survey work near Taos, N.M. After graduation they will be sent to Latin America.

Ranger on Target—This is a photograph of the lunar surface taken by the Ranger 7 spacecraft prior to its impact on the moon July 31st. The area shown is about one and two-thirds miles on a side. The smallest craters are about 30 feet in diameter and 10 feet deep. Some of the large craters are about 300 feet in diameter.

Family Grieves—Gust Carlson, father of Dr. Paul Carlson, medical missionary slain by rebel troops in the Congo, dabbed at his eyes during a news conference in Los Angeles on November 24. He is flanked by his daughter and another son.

New Teen-Age Queen—Smiling Carolyn Mignini, 17, of Baltimore was crowned the new Miss Teen-age America of 1965 in Dallas on November 13.

World's Fair at Night—The New York World's Fair attracted as many visitors at night as it did during the day following its April opening. The nighttime lights set off the beautiful pavilions constructed by many countries.

Democratic Victor—President Lyndon Johnson won the 1964 election by the greatest plurality and per cent of the total vote in U. S. history. Johnson became President at the assassination of John F. Kennedy in 1963.

Barry's Battle for Votes—Sen. Barry Goldwater was surrounded by fans at Knoxville, Tenn., airport September 16 as he campaigned for the presidency on the Republican ticket. The conservative senator swept to a first-ballot nomination at the convention in San Francisco.

National Events in Review—1964

Reds are the Winners—Roger Craig leaped on a group of teammates surrounding the pitcher Bob Gibson moments after the last out in the seventh World Series game won by the Redbirds over the Yankees, 7-5, in St. Louis.

I'm the Greatest—Cassius Clay whooped it up with his handlers after he won the world heavyweight title in Miami Beach in February. He was credited with a technical knockout of Sonny Liston when Liston failed to answer the bell for the seventh round.

Alaskan Quake—A whole line of cars rested about 20 feet below street level on a main thoroughfare in Anchorage the day following the disastrous earthquake on March 27.

Changing

Worlds

Kathy — here it is — "my baby" ! It's hard to believe this is the end result of our year of happy with it as you're as happy with it as I am and the mistakes are made on this one will serve to make yours better. I was a real much working with you. Kathy, and I know you'll enjoy the pleasure of work and worry as much as I did. Greywolf — if forward to the really looking — if there's anything I can do please let me know.

DEDICATION

Although not as well known as many teachers, this person has spent more time at his job than most others. He was always willing to give of his time and knowledge to keep his department progressing. He encouraged his pupils to think for themselves, instilled in them a sense of responsibility, and helped them establish a goal in life. The results of his fine leadership are shown in the accomplishments of our local FFA chapter. The success or failure of a chapter depend tremendously on the advisor and this man produced a superior chapter for us many times. By working on FFA projects during the summer as well as the regular school year, he helped the boys to learn by doing. The high esteem he holds for knowledge is indicated by the example he himself has set by sacrificing his job to further his own education in order to help people even more than he does now.

This man is a living example of the motto of the Future Farmers of America:

Learning to Do
Doing to Learn
Earning to Live
Living to Serve

And so it is with deep pride that we dedicate this Greywolf '65 to you, Mr. Eugene Teesdale.

The Student Council offers a way for the student body to put forth its opinions. Having an understanding of student needs, the Council members are able to suggest possible changes in administration policy. The student body is given a hand in school affairs, and at the same time the Student Council helps bring about a working relationship between the administration and the students. Assisting the A.F.S. Program, they encourage a broadening of the student body's knowledge of foreign peoples.

The Student Council members gain invaluable experience in self-government and parliamentary procedure as well as other democratic principles. The Council, backed by the student body, contributes in numerous ways to Sequim High School.

ASB PROVIDES STUDENT LEADERSHIP

ASB President John Buckingham

ASB Vice-President Ron Beil

The Student Body, guided by President John Buckingham, contributed to Sequim High by various means this year. Early in the year the Student Body voted in favor of and helped pay for the football scoreboard. The Student Council sponsored the Homecoming and then set about choosing a school ring. The coming of Sequim High School's foreign exchange student, Wichian Boonmapajon, provided a new area of work for the Council. Members were busy introducing Wichian to Sequim High and orienting him on the American way of life. In November the Student Body held a rice smorgasbord to raise funds for the local A.F.S. chapter.

GREYWOLF '65 REFLECTS

One of the most time-consuming of high school activities is the production of an annual. In the thirty years that the Greywolf has been published by the students of Sequim High School, it has changed greatly. From a 27 page booklet printed in the local print shop, it has become a 136 page book of facts as well as memories. The first Greywolf contained much copy and a few pictures of club members; subsequent changes have evolved into a magazine-type format, using large action shots and limited copy, dedicated to "telling the folks what happened" in an interesting and appropriate manner.

The changes in the tastes of today's readers makes the job of appealing to the yearbook audience increasingly challenging. In striving to meet this challenge the members of the Greywolf '65 have entered into a world of surprising specialization. In putting out a yearbook we have become acquainted with the techniques of reporting and lay-out and the vast world of the publishing industry and its specialized branch of yearbook publishing companies. We also become knowledgeable in business matters through our financial dealings.

Yearbook production is both challenging and rewarding.

Under the direction of business manager Mary Ruth Copeland, the 1965 business staff worked hard to bring in the money neceswork, of last minute tension, and the joy of deadlines well met.

A CHANGING WORLD

"PRAIRIE WOLF REVIEW" COMBINES

Co-editors Sherri Brown and Pam Ward, were responsible for the planning and publication of alternate editions of PWR.

The individual talent of many people was needed for the success of this year's school newspaper.

SCHOOL AND PROFESSIONAL TALENT

PWR advisor, Miss Murrell, worked closely with the publishing staff.

As our world changed this year, so did the journalism department by the revision of old features and the introduction of new ones for the school paper. Co-editors, Pam Ward and Sherri Brown shared the responsibility of putting out regular school published editions and several professionally printed ones. With the "co-editor method", larger, better planned issues were made possible. A rotating assistant editor system provided an opportunity for most members of the class to experience a taste of the responsibility faced by those in an administrative position. By-lines (small lines of type at the beginnings of articles which credit their authorship) stimulated individual effort within the large staff and accounted for an expanded and more interesting coverage of school events. The added feature of "Letters to the Editor" invited the general student body to contribute ideas and opinions to the school paper.

The journalism students not only bettered the Prairie Wolf Review, but studied to widen their personal outlooks and comprehension of national and world-wide press coverage as well. With the help of their advisor, Miss Murrell, they examined different types of news articles and learned to differentiate between straight news reporting and writing designed to sway public opinion and the relative value of each type of article in various situations.

CHRISTMAS

Counterpoints: Extra rehearsals plus the regular practices helped to prepare the Counterpoints for the Christmas Concert last winter. The Concert was enjoyable because of their choice of songs. Instead of the standard Christmas Carols, they presented a selection of Negro Spirituals and less known Christmas songs. This year they presented more solos for added interest. One solo was Cheryl Smith singing, "The Children's Prayer" accompanied by the Counterpoints.

The group was enlarged this year in order to achieve greater depth in presentation. The chosen individuals' talents combined to make a full, rich sound.

Nonette: Nine girls, with a common interest in singing, have joined together to form an independent singing group. They first performed in the Freshmen Follies and later, with slight changes in membership, they became The Nonette, performing in the Christmas Concert last winter. Most of the girls have had some musical training, but as a group they have had no professional assistance. They practice at their own convenience, at noons or after school. Members at the time of the Christmas Concert included Gayle Ball, Laurel Brown, Judy Robbins, Coral Sorensen, Brenda Smith, Sherry Wood, Breta Smith, Crystal Sorensen, Robyn Johnson.

CONCERT HEIGHTENS HOLIDAY SPIRIT

Band The band gained experience in public appearances by their part in the Christmas Concert. It took many weeks of practice to be able to perform the wide variety of selections they presented. The program was made complete by the contribution of their talent.

By enthusiastically playing "Pep", "Victory", and other songs, the band adds greatly to the enjoyment of home games. Inspiring more pep the band aids the cheerleaders in making a better cheering section out of the pep club. Their support is appreciated.

Changing worlds is the theme of this yearbook and changing worlds could very well be the theme of the local chapter of Future Farmers of America. Just as the rest of society is noting great changes, so are agriculture and FFA. The changes coming about in the FFA are especially evident in our own local chapter. A greater emphasis is now being placed on the leadership opportunities found within the FFA rather than on individual farm projects. Few people realize that the FFA is no longer only an organization for Future farmers. It has increased its scope to offer training in all agricultural fields as well as for life itself. The FFA recognizes the fact that this is a changing world and has therefore allowed for these changes by offering enough diversity in its program to suit every situation. The activities and outstanding accomplishments of the chapter are proof of the success possible by having both a progressive philosophy and the help of a progressive advisor. We can be justifiably proud of such an up-to-date chapter.

"Stairway to the Stars" was the original theme for this year's traditional Mother's Tea sponsored by the Girls' Club. Expertly organized by Ruth Johnson and Sylvia Cerruti, the event feted the mothers of all high school girls during the Mothers' Day season. The traditional style show, directed this year by Lani Levine and Kathy Grant, featured garments modeled by the girls who had sewn or knitted them during the previous year. Entertainment for the evening was provided by Wanda Boersig's harp solo and a vocal trio made up of Nancy Warman, Roberta Warman, and Bob Knapp. Others who served as committee chairmen for the event were Janice Herrett, corsages and flowers, Pat Botterberghe, decorations, and Janyce Heaton, refreshments.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS SERVE IN MANY WAYS

Guests at Daddy Date Night were honored by a personal appearance of Homer and Jethro who looked suspiciously like two senior girls—Lani Levine and Pam Ward.

The Future Homemakers of America, Sequim Chapter, had a year filled with successful activities headed by President Mary Ruth Copeland. Initiation of new members started the year's program. At Christmas time, the girls spent an afternoon decorating classroom doors and visited rest homes to help the patients send out Christmas cards. Pizza and cookie sales were money raising projects for the Daddy Date Night Banquet.

The theme of this year's banquet, "Top Hats and Tails," was carried out in decorations designed by Lynn Parker, general chairman. The highlight of this year's banquet was the announcement of Bob Smith as new F.H.A. prince.

General chairman, Lynn Parker, puts the finishing touches on a top hat with a perky yellow rabbit which carried out the central theme of Daddy Date Night, "Top Hat and Tails."

THESPIANS

A gangster, an old lady, and a young man supposed to look like an old lady were some of the challenges facing the make-up staff for this play. In order to have everyone ready for student performances, the staff had to be at the school and begin work at 7:00 in the morning.

GENERATE NEW ENTHUSIASM FOR DRAMA

Big Joe, believing that Victoria Parrish is Aunt Phoebe, tries to pull off her hair in an effort to expose her and find out what she knows about his dealings.

So that no one will discover Rochelle's body, Bill and Rocky hide it in the office of G. R. Fossdick until press time.

This year's Thespian Troupe increased its membership over any previous year with both seniors and juniors being initiated into the group. Because of the large number of fine actors and workers in the organization, the choice of recipients for the Best Thespians awards was a hard one, but after much deliberation, Lani Levine and Gene Paine were selected.

The high light of this year's work was the All-School Play, "Dear Phoebe", a Samuel French production done in late April.

The play was a comedy adopted from a former television series and required the work of most of the troupe to insure its overwhelming success.

In behind the scenes activity, Miss Murrell, Thespian advisor, showed filmstrips on how to apply make-up and capable stage crews built some fine sets for both the senior and All-School plays.

The Thespians are now a growing and active group and will continue to be so if the enthusiasm generated this year is not let to die in the months to come.

PROJECTION CLUB AIDS CLASSROOM ACTIVITY

Under the guidance of Mr. Strong, the members of the Projection Club became familiar with the use and maintenance of various equipment available to the organization. The club provided a service group for the school by showing films for the many departments of Sequim High. Active projectionists also operated tape recorders for sound effects during school plays and gained a knowledge of photography and dark-room techniques. Officers for the year were Dennis Bugge, president; Eric Walker, vice-president; and Liz Clay, secretary-treasurer.

NEWEST CLUB HAS MEXICAN FLAVOR

A new club was added to the school's list of activities this year. Under the influence of its advisor, Mrs. Tout, the Spanish Club sparked a new interest in and enthusiasm for the culture and language of Mexico and Spain. During her six week visit, Senorita Maria Josefa Guerra O'Hart presented the Spanish classes with a first-hand view of life in Mexico. She also gave the club an example of Mexican music when she sang a "popurri" at a meeting.

Members of the club look over the words to the Spanish song "Popurri" while waiting for Miss Guerra to sing.

Miss Guerra relaxes for a few moments before tackling her first class in the U. S. A.

HONOR SOCIETY INCREASES MEMBERSHIP

Honor Society officers, Steve Gustafson, vice president, Merlene Ecker, secretary; Robert Neal, president; and Lani Levine, treasurer, laugh together while making plans for the club's visit to the University of Washington Medical Open House.

Helping to decorate the school for Christmas, members of the Honor Society trimmed the Christmas tree which appears annually in the main hall.

The smell of popcorn is familiar to all conscientious members of the society, who sell it at all home games.

This year's Sequim Chapter of the National Honor Society was the largest it has ever been. The Society was asked to represent Sequim High in nominating a great American to the Hall of Fame. Service credits were again earned by tutoring, decorating the Christmas tree, and cleaning the stage. Along with increased membership came plans for increased activity under the direction of the club's advisor, Mrs. Scott.

A special assembly was held to draw attention to this honorary at which Mrs. Scott, the advisor, passed out cards to the probationary members and pins to those who had gained full membership.

There is probably not a single student in Sequim High School who would dispute the fact that this is a changing world with little long-term regard for the comings and goings of the people who inhabit it. If we look more closely we find that the same is true of our own high school. Try as we may to make an impression, important as we may think ourselves to the moment, our lasting marks upon this institution are few. When we leave the halls of Sequim High School we will leave them a little more worn perhaps, but looking essentially the same--the same numbers will mark the rooms where we have struggled with our several subjects a day; even the cracks and spots on the walls where we have fixed our gazes while day-dreaming will be relatively unchanged.

And so it is that because these landmarks of our high school lives are so constant and unvarying that they will stay with us long after faces and sounds are dulled by later concerns. Although years of progress may find these buildings giving way to others, we will still keep these special parts of Sequim High alive in our hearts and minds so busy with the activity of a changing world.

So stop a moment to look and think, to mark a place for the peculiarities of Sequim High School, 1965.

This year's senior class with 80 students graduating was the largest in the history of Sequim High School. It was a busy year for the class of '65 crowded with activities, studies and tests. The senior dance, Mardi Gras, was held only one day after the final performance of the class play, The Loud Red Patrick, which starred Gene Paine, Lynn Dee Parker, and Eldon Jones. The year was liberally interspersed with College Board Exams for college-bound seniors and employment aptitude tests for others. In early spring, several groups were stricken with "senioritis" and large signs bearing gaudy 65's began to appear on the cattle-crossing, high wires, and other strategic locations in the area. The spirit of '65 was strong and the memories it invokes are many.

GRADUATION MEANS

A whirlwind week of final tests, pre-graduation festivities, awards assemblies, graduation practices, and, finally, commencement itself, marked the end of high school days for the eighty seniors of the class of '65. The first two days of the seniors' last week in the classroom was crowded with as many as seven final tests. On Thursday, the seniors "let down their hair", arriving for check-out day in any number of wild and original costumes portraying beatniks, little girls, and just plain tired teens. Friday was taken up by both the all-school awards assembly at which seniors took most top honors, and the "Freshmen Follies" given in place of freshmen initiation to honor the graduating class. On Sunday, the majority of the class participated in an inspiring baccalaureate service sponsored by the Sequim Ministerial Association at which Rev. Cole gave the sermon. Monday and Wednesday of the following week, seniors attended graduation practices, worked to finish school projects, made up time or just slept.

Excitement and pleasure show on the faces of senior girls as they adjust motor boards to the proper angle.

It was with mixed emotions that 78 seniors faced the final night of graduation ceremonies June 9. For some, the night brought tearful remembrances of past good times, for some, laughter and joyful anticipation of a new life, for many, pride in honors and scholarships well deserved.

WICHIAN BOONMAPAJON MAKES THE WORLD SMALLER FOR SEQUIM

Although he had some trouble studying in our language, Wichian always worked hard and deserved the fine grades he earned in all his classes.

Wichian was an outstanding speaker and enjoyed giving talks on his homeland and his impressions of America.

Wichian helped a great deal with the rice smorgasbord given to benefit next year's foreign student fund.

For those honored to be among the friends of Wichian Boonmapajon (and who, indeed, was not, for all who knew Wichian loved him and were loved in return), the school year of 1964-65 will be remembered for its fun, laughter, and good times. Wichian, sponsored by the American Field Service, came to us from Thailand, during the school year he made his home with the Schindlers who acted as his American family and were of great help to all who sought to honor Wichian and to hear him speak. Wichian attended our high school as a fully enrolled senior, and since he hopes to someday become a banker, majored in commercial subjects, graduating with honors with the class of '65. A member of many extracurricular clubs, Wichian was known for his ready smile and wit which contributed much to high school morale, especially at sporting events. Wichian introduced us to many oriental wonders, not the least of which was his marvelous abacus. The world has indeed been made smaller and international good will has prospered in the hearts of many because of this fine young man.

Wichian Boonmapajon did an outstanding job as Sequim High School's first exchange student. There will be an empty place in our hearts and our hallways now that he has returned to his homeland. It is our fervent hope that we have been able to do as much for him and his country as he has done for us and ours.

JUNIORS HONOR SENIORS WITH NAUTICAL PROM

At right: Couples danced to music provided by the seventeen-piece North Kitsap band who were engaged by Jill McDaniel and Stan Reed, music chairmen.

At left: Under a sea blue ceiling of crepe paper, a golden mermaid, expertly made by Arlene Themaland, rested in a bed of blue flowers adding a touch of fantasy to the class of '66's nautical prom.

Janice Herrett, decoration chairman, and Dave Boyce, co-chairman, admire the table decorations of red, white and blue boats, they, Carol Wicklander and Margaret Sanford created and check their program which was designed by Marsha Dunlap and Ron Beil.

Hard-working juniors spent many extra hours preparing their prom for April 24. With the help of the class advisors, Mrs. Gooding, Mrs. Tout and Mr. Tracy, and the general committee chairmen, Doris Thompson and Larry Schindler, the job was done and done well.

This year's prom theme, "Bon Voyage '65" was carried out in red, white and blue. Decorating the end walls were hundreds of blue tissue flowers, with "Bon Voyage '65" lettered in red crepe paper flowers on the far wall.

During intermission, refreshments, chairmanship by Judy Olsen, of sandwiches and punch were served. After intermission a map of the senior's journey through life was presented to them.

Though there were times the juniors felt they would never finish, the decorations and every other phase of their prom lived up to expectations, making it a "night to remember."

The word sports means many things to today's high school student. It means all kinds of intramural and intra-scholastic athletic events: Football, basketball, baseball, tennis. It means turn-outs and training rules, plays and pep assemblies, homecoming and hot showers.

But sports are not all a frivolity of one sort or another and this cannot be over emphasized. We often hear the suggestion that athletics is a pre-occupation and that it seriously detracts from the academic order of the high school. That this is untrue is adequately evidenced by the eligibility program which requires all those who turn-out to keep their work up to date and their marks high.

Sports cannot be supported solely because it forces some who might otherwise cease to try working in the classroom. How then, is it justified? The answer comes from the most basic characteristic of high school students: Youth. Youth is a time of boundless energy which cannot healthily be channeled all on one subject. Boys especially are given an opportunity to "let off a little steam"--a practice invaluable in maintaining order and discipline in the classroom.

Sports, then, means much more than an elaborate plan to keep students busy after school. It means the development of personal values, skills and worth.

G.A.A. OFFERS VARIED ACTIVITIES

Totating the many points turned in by members toward earning a G.A.A. letter are point recorders for this year, Tracey Rygaard and Janice Herrett.

Preparing equipment before another session of G.A.A. are the officers Bernice Swanson, President; Karen Kettle, Vice President; and Linda Nordwell, Secretary-Treasurer.

This year for G.A.A. members started out with a camp-out at the Elwha Campground. In winter, G.A.A. went indoors for their basketball tournament with the Class of '65 winning the championship for the third consecutive year.

G.A.A. girls go for many sports including gymnastics, baseball, volleyball, and tennis. Besides providing lots of healthful exercise, G.A.A. gives girls a chance to develop a sense of team play.

There's action galore in girl's basketball - G.A.A.'s winter sport.

G.A.A. advisor, Miss Williamson (center), confers with the visiting girls' tennis coach from East Bremerton.

LETTERMEN PLAN NEW TROPHY CASE

Eric Walker makes a final check on the plans before submitting them for the members to approve.

Approving the plans proved to be the toughest job in preparation for building the new trophy case.

Senior High boys who letter in intra-scholastic sports are eligible for membership in Lettermen's Club. This year the club's major goal was to build another trophy case for Sequim High. To finance this effort, they sponsored a disc jockey pep dance. The boys drew up plans for the case, but postponed its building until next year.

Members decide to hire a disc jockey to help increase attendance at a pep dance they sponsored in football season.

Shown above is the new electric scoreboard which brought the Wolves luck for a spectacular victory over the Bainbridge Spartans.

WOLVES REGAIN OLYMPIC

Coaches Ron Newton and Ken Lisk were greeted by about 35 talented boys at the first football turn-out. They immediately went to work and molded one of the hardest hitting teams in the Olympic League for 1964. They promoted high spirit among the players which contributed to the all-around sportsmanship for which the Wolves are noted. The coaches made sure that the players were up for the big game and this really meant a lot this year as the Wolves were underrated. The boys came up with the hard tackle, the key block, and the important score when it came down to winning or losing. Sequim fans witnessed some of the best hard-nosed football played by Sequim teams in many years.

The 1964 football season began with consecutive losses to Lakeside, Central Kitsap, and Vashon. The narrow loss to Vashon proved to be the turning point of the season for the Wolves. They found the offensive and defensive punch that later carried them to four straight victories and a second-place league finish.

Bainbridge was first to fall victim to the Wolves. Alert Sequim defenders blocked two extra point attempts which made the difference in the final score. The Wolves then smashed North Mason, 18-7 and brought home a big 13-7 victory over Port Townsend. Many people will remember this game as it was the first time in seven years that the Wolves have beaten the Redskins. The Port Angeles Rangers were overcome 9-7 for the final win. Forks then spoiled Sequim's Homecoming by handing the Wolves a 12-0 defeat in the final game.

Although football is primarily a team sport where one gives little thought to personal glory, it is still possible for outstanding members of a team to gain individual recognition. At the end of each season two honor teams are chosen. One is chosen by the sports staff of the Bremerton Sun and is made up of players who these writers feel have done an outstanding job for their respective teams. The other is an "All-Opponent Team" made up of boys from other league schools who the players themselves feel have performed especially well on the field.

In addition to these honor-teams there are two trophies awarded within our school at the end of the football season. One of these is the "Inspirational Award" given to the boy whom the players themselves feel has provided the best example of stamina and good sportsmanship during the season. The second trophy, the "Coaches Award", goes to that player thought by the coaches to personify gentlemanliness, good sportsmanship, and improved playing throughout the season.

SPIRIT OF HOMECOMING SPARKS RENEWED ENTHUSIASM

Despite a Homecoming loss of 12-0 to the Forks Spartans, the Wolves finished the season with a fine overall record.

Numerous activities took place in preparation for the contest with Forks. Wednesday was "Animal Day"; many students brought stuffed animals decorated with school colors. In the evening, students participated in a pep rally and bonfire. The cheerleaders sold lollipops on Thursday to promote "Lick Forks Day." School spirit reached its climax Friday with Loyalty Day and a pep assembly. Royalty, announced during half-time at the game, reigned over the Homecoming Dance. Purple and white streamers graced the multi-purpose room, setting the scene for final Homecoming activities.

Terry Peterson strains for the rebound against the Port Townsend Redskins.

1964-65 was one of those seasons when nothing seem to go right. Cage prospects looked good as the season opened but the team never quite jelled. This can be attributed to inexperience and inconsistency. Although many players came through with fine individual performances, these just served to illustrate that it takes a team to win. Injuries, too, hurt the team just as it seemed it would hit its stride.

Several of the losses were close and the 4-16 record could well have been 8-12. The underclassmen on the team gave creditable performances, indicating that next season is sure to be one of improvement.

The Inspirational Award was voted to Terry Peterson who hit his stride late in the season. David Delaney, reserve center, received the Coaches Award presented by Coach King for his fine example of sportsmanship and team play.

JUNIOR VARSITY HOLDS PROMISE OF FINE BASKETBALL FUTURE

Larry Danforth comes down with the rebound.

The Sequim High Junior Varsity basketball team gave a promise of things to come as they powered their way through a difficult season and compiled a 12-8 record. The maturity of a few juniors plus the speedy development of the sophomores paved the way for a fine showing. The J.V.'s, under the able direction of Coach Bill Harriman, showed excellent poise and control at all times. Many of their wins were close, but coolness under pressure enabled the boys to win the tough ones. Although just average in height, the young Wolves showed fierce determination in their rebounding and defense. Their all-around aggressiveness was most pleasing to all who watched them play.

Sequim basketball fortunes are on the way up as evidenced by the excellent showing made by this year's Junior Varsity.

In addition to capturing the league title for the first time in many years, the 1965 Wolves baseball team proved it was one of distinction by placing four players on the first Olympic League All-opponent Baseball Team. This squad is similar to the all-opponent squad chosen during football season--players are elected on the basis of how well they are remembered by their opponents from other schools in the league.

With a team composed primarily of juniors and sophomores, the Wolves finished with a 6-2 league mark and a 9-7 over-all record. A crowd-pleasing team, this year's baseball squad combined lusty hitting and exciting fielding throughout the season to achieve this fine record.

The Sequim Wolves tennis squad had a fairly successful season, but did not, however, repeat as league champions. They tied for second in the league behind the strong Bainbridge net team. They finished with a .500 mark in the league competition. Sequim's first victory, over North Mason, was followed by two defeats by Vashon and Bainbridge. Then came revenge time as Sequim edged the Vashon Pirates on our home courts. Following another loss to Bainbridge, the Wolves evened their league mark at 3-3 with a win over the North Mason Bulldogs. Singles positions at the end of the season were held as follows: Dennis Craig, first; Ron Beil, second; Bronnie Smith, third; Jay Lancaster, fourth; and John Buckingham, fifth. Others who turned out were Ed Flick, Jerry Davis, and Steve Cole. First position doubles team was Dennis Craig and Ron Beil; second position team was Bronnie Smith and Jay Lancaster. The first four position singles players attended the league championship meet at Bainbridge, but did not place.

GIRLS NEARLY LAND

LEAGUE TENNIS TITLE

Barb Klint practices her service for the "big game."

Approximately twenty senior high girls turned out for girls tennis this season. All of them spent many hours working and practicing to prepare themselves for the games. All had fun challenging each other to games and "climbing" the ladder, working their way toward the coveted top seven positions and spots on the traveling teams.

The girls played with lots of enthusiasm and pep. The enthusiasm and pep with which the girls played earned them several victories and very nearly brought the Olympic League championship home to Sequim High, but two final heart-breaking losses to North Mason and Vashon cost them the title. However, hopes for the 1966 season are high and the talent of many of this year's juniors and sophomores make Sequim's chances for next year look very good.

NEW EVENTS HIGH-LIGHT 70TH

Shortly after being chosen to reign over the festivities, Queen Pam Ward, Princess Lynn Dee Parker, and Princess Linda Dryke, honored the Captain Puget television show with a regal visit.

As Sequim's traditional Irrigation Festival moved into its 70th consecutive celebration, our town could be justifiably proud to be the home of the state's oldest consecutively held community festival. Although it looked for a few days as if there would be no celebration this year because of lack of leadership, Roger Hawley, a recent alumnus of Sequim High, stepped to the fore and did a truly fine job as general chairman.

This year's festival featured many new activities, including a Demolition Derby sponsored by the Sequim Lions and attended by thousands. For the first time in many years, the festival committee was able to report a financial profit and plans were made for permanent acquisitions to promote future fun for the community.

ADMINISTRATION

My heartiest congratulations to Ann Forest and the entire staff of this year's Greywolf.

I have observed the endless hours of time and effort you have devoted to bringing this fine issue into being. Few realize the sacrifices in personal pleasures and interests you have made in your determination to put out a yearbook of which you and the entire student body can be justly proud. You have worked diligently in the true tradition of excellence for which Sequim High School continually strives.

May the quality of this 1965 Greywolf provide lasting satisfaction and pride to all those who have labored to bring it into existence; pleasure and enjoyment to the students who will possess and cherish it and an inspiration to all future yearbook staffs who shall emulate it.

Matt Strauss

Superintendent of Schools

This has been another year in which Sequim High School students have distinguished themselves with honors. Sequim High School was the only high school in the state of Washington with an enrollment of less than 500 to have three or more finalists in the National Merit Scholarship Competition.

It is an honor to work with a school staff capable of inspiring and teaching students to reach these heights. The students of Sequim High School have the ability to reach the highest goals. Each student owes it to himself to set the highest standards of achievement and then pursue these goals with the help of a dedicated staff of teachers.

Congratulations to Editor Ann Forest and her staff who have worked hard to make this Greywolf '65 truly outstanding. May it serve as an example of excellence for the classes of tomorrow.

What is Sequim Junior High? The best answer seems to be simply this: It is an entity unto itself. Our junior high is not just a miniturized wing of our high school, a place to keep students too old for grade school and too young for high school. It is a world in itself with its own student government, its own clubs and organizations, its own scholastic requirements.

In another respect, however, it is a place for students too old for grade school and too young for high school, for the very "in between-ness" of the junior high makes it unique. It provides a vital place for the vast amount of growing up that is done between seventh grade and the freshman year. It is an important training ground for the fundamentals of student government and co-operative activity relatively free of adult interference and domination by older, more advanced students. It provides challenging forms of study within the reach of the pre-high schooler.

To the student, the junior high means a fascinating world of homerooms, junior high parties, the first intra-scholastic sports, and close relations with faculty members. In the midst of all this the junior high student becomes involved in all the stimuli, academic and social which are that unique entity, the junior high.

The student council acts on business of concern to the junior high.

First semester president, Duane Dahl, swears in Pam Livingston as second semester president.

The Junior High Student Council met again this year to discuss and decide about business concerning the junior high. They sponsored their annual magazine sale which this year proved to be the most successful ever held. The proceeds from the sale were donated to the high school scoreboard fund and to the American Field Service to help bring another foreign student to Sequim. Through the sponsorship of this and other projects the members of the council learned the fundamentals of student government.

Duane Dahl presents a check for $300 to Dr. Kenneth B. Olts, president of the Sequim Chapter of the American Field Service, as a contribution to the foreign student fund. The money was raised by junior high students through magazine sales.

J. H. STAFF INCREASES COVERAGE

Editing the junior high section this year has been one of the most interesting and enjoyable jobs I have had. It has been a lot of work rushing to meet deadlines, but far from being all work, it has been the most fun I have ever had. We worked hard to outdo each other with practical jokes and surprises, as well.

I am certainly looking forward to being on the staff again next year and hope that a lot of others will be on the staff to help, too.

GIRLS' CLUB INTRODUCES "GIRL-OF-THE-MONTH" PROGRAM

Junior High cheerleader, Roxie Trotter, enjoys the new pom poms purchased with money earned by the Girls' Club.

In this, its second year, the Junior High Girls' Club worked hard to better itself and to take an even more active part in the life of Sequim Junior High. In order to encourage girls to better themselves as individuals and to provide recognition for girls who might be considered outstanding examples for others, a new "Girl-of-the-Month" program was started. Under this program, a candidate was chosen by each of the homerooms and voted upon by the girls on the basis of personality, friendliness, personal values, and school spirit. A new girl was chosen each month beginning in March of 1965.

Shown in front of the bulletin board that they help to keep decorated and up-to-date are first semester Girls' Club Council members.

JUNIOR HIGH PRINCIPAL SPEAKS

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate all ninth grade students completing the junior high course of study. It is my hope that during these past few years you have not only developed physically, mentally and morally, but have developed good habits of study, concentration and self control that will help you in your high school career.

Congratulations to the Junior High Editor, Duane Dan, and his staff and to Senior High Editor, Ann Forest, and her staff on this excellent Greywolf '65.

Sincerely,

Alfred D. McElmer

PEP SQUAD LENDS SPIRIT TO SPORTS

Champ, our new mascot, introduced by this year's pep squad, rapidly became an inspiration to team and rooters alike.

The cheerleaders worked hard all year to promote enthusiasm among the spectators.

For the year 1964 and 1965, the Junior High Pep Squad changed from cheerleaders and song queens to six cheerleaders, five of which were eighth graders. A new member of the squad this year is our adopted mascot "Champ." Another first this year was the pom poms bought by the Girls' Club which added a lot to the appearance and cheers.

The outfits included black pleated skirts and white bulky sweaters with large letter emblems. The girls enjoyed leading the rooters through the thrills of the game.

EIGHTH GRADE CAGERS LIVE UP

TO EXPECTATIONS

Sequim gets the rebound in an attack against Port Townsend.

David Sanford jumps high for the rebound.

Game strategy is planned by Coach Greathouse.

Finishing the season with a spectacular record of eight wins with only one loss, the eighth grade basketball team lived up to the high expectations of all who saw them play together as seventh graders last year. These players hold a promise of a strong future in the sports world of Sequim High. This year's team included Alan Millet, Doug Carpenter, Martin Knapman, Rollie Sears, Mike Tinneland, Collin Roberts, Dave Daniels, Steve Percival, Bob Ward, Doug Roberson, Jeff Brown, Steve Muller, Bruce Ludke, Dave Sanford, Darrel Sanford, Fran Sanford, Bob Funston, and Paul Lotsgesell.

Steve Kiesser jumps for a shot.

Determination of the faces of the players shows their will to win.

The experience of intra-scholastic basketball was new this year for the seventh graders. The boys bottled well for Sequim Junior High and look forward to the next years when they will improve in skill and represent us well. Among those who participated in the sport this year are Curtis Adams, Gory Beil, Norman Berger, James Blake, Kenneth Bruekner, David Burdick, Dan Campbell, Jerry Carpenter, Doug Cole, Max Heaton, Steve Kiesser, Duane Knapman, Tim Lancaster, Martin Pedersen, Jack Ponting and Gordon Sears.

INTRA-SCHOLASTIC SPORTS

NEW FOR SEVENTH GRADE

The action of the games is reflected in the faces of the substitutes.

SOFTBALL PLAYERS WIN RECOGNITION

The batter swings hoping for a run.

Coch Newton stands behind the pitcher to judge balls and strikes.

Running hard, the batter tries to reach first base.

The teams this year participated in a "round-robin" in which each team played all other teams. the "round-robin" was played in two rounds with Marty Knapman's team winning the first round and George Wangen's team winning the second.

Winning meant a lot to the players--recognition at the awards assembly and prestige for the boys.

Many thanks go to Mrs. Wheeler for keeping a bulletin board record which included home-runs made by individuals and the teams standings. This encouraged individual as well as team effort.

As business manager of Greywolf '65, I wish to take this opportunity to thank all the merchants and professional people of the Sequim-Port Angeles area who have helped to make this yearbook possible by purchasing advertisements or making donations. You have made my job this year a real pleasure and this book a reality.

I would also like to thank my staff for all the work they have done this year and to wish Jill McDaniel, the 1965-66 business manager, the very best of luck in what I have found to be a very rewarding and satisfying job.

My thanks to all of you,

Mary Ruth Copeland

THEY HELP THE SCHOOL RUN SMOOTHLY

Custodians Glen Foster and Don Salonen stop work to pose for a shot.

Nurse Hubbard examines Sue Machenheimer's motor bike burn.

Mrs. Tripp, Mrs. Robison, Dietician Mrs. Richelieu, Mrs. Fiddler, and Mrs. Thompson make up the kitchen crew, an essential part of the school system.

Head gardener Sam Tague trims the elms in front of the Administration Building with the help of Don Schmidt.

A WORD FROM THE EDITOR

To the readers and staff of Greywolf '65:

It is with distinctly mixed feelings that I write this, my final word for the Greywolf '65. This page has become known in staff conversation as my "editorial after-word" and it is just that, for it is the last page to be completed before our book goes to press. For many of you, this yearbook will mean nothing more than another in the collection of Greywolves that line your bookshelves, a seldom examined book of memories of one school year, but for many of us, this book is far more--for me especially, it seems at this moment to represent the sum total of a full year of my life, a busy, hectic, and happy year that I set aside with distinct reluctance. To every person who opens this book, may I extend a very heartfelt thanks for affording me and all the staff the opportunity to work as long and hard as we have on something we feel so very worthwhile, I wish all of you could know the wonderful memories behind each and every page of this yearbook. The scrambles to get our photographer on the scene for candid shots, the long searches for copy material, the dozens of practical jokes and puns that lightened the long hours of work, and the despair on the days when nothing seemed to go quite right.

This is the twenty-eighth Greywolf to be published by the Associated Students of Sequim High School. In the beginning it seemed fitting that our yearbook be named for the Greywolf River, major tributary of the Dungeness on which life in our valley so largely depends. The world has changed since our yearbook had its start as has life in our valley, but we continue to look to the rivers for water for our crops, industries, and recreation. We hope that in much the same way, Greywolf '65 will become a symbol for you of a life that changes and grows, but continues to find its roots in at least one wonderful year at Sequim High School.

To the staff of Greywolf '65, who are listed below, to our advisor Mr. Schaffman, and to the many who were never official members of our staff, but who did so much to make this book a reality, a very large and well-deserved THANK YOU.

Dear Bones

Chou Listens—Red Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai held an earpiece as he listened to an address by the Soviet Union's new party leader, Leonid Brezhnev, during a meeting of world Communists in Moscow on November 6. Alexei Kosygin, Soviet premier, is at right.

They Died in '64—These world figures died during the year. From left are Prime Minister Nehru of India, General Douglas MacArthur of the United States and former President Herbert Hoover.

Stretcher Cases—Wounded white hostages and Belgian paratroopers were carried from rescue plane at Leopoldville after it arrived from Stanleyville November 24. The paratroopers descended on the rebel-held Congo city just as a massacre of hostages began, and their quick work saved the lives of hundreds.

New President—Foreign Minister Giuseppe Saragat (right) was formally notified in Rome on the night of December 28 that he had been elected president of Italy.

World Events in Review—1964

Alliance Talks—British Foreign Secretary Patrick Gordon Walker, left, talked with West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard in Bonn on November 15 during efforts to find a compromise on a new nuclear force for the troubled Atlantic Alliance.

Pope Visits India—The 38th International Eucharistic Congress opened in Bombay, India, on November 28. In December, Pope Paul VI made the longest papal journey in history to attend sessions of the congress.

Vinnie at 90—Winston Churchill acknowledged cheers of well-wishers who gathered outside the window of his Hyde Park home in London on November 30. The occasion was his 90th birthday.

Tokyo, Japan—William H. Mills (left) of the U. S. A., led Mohamed Gam-moudi of Tunisia across the finish line to win the Olympic 10,000 meter event on October 14.

Swampy Victory—A group of Viet Cong prisoners sat quietly in Camau last October while guarded by armed South Vietnamese troops. The prisoners were among those captured during a major battle on the Camau peninsula.

Reunions at the Wall—An East German mother embraced her West German children last November at the Helmstedt railway station after the border dividing East and West Germany was opened for the first time since 1961 for East Germans.

Change of Power—Alexei Kosygin, 60, left, and Leonid Brezhnev, 57, respectively, were named to be premier of the Soviet Union and secretary of the Communist party on October 15. They took over the posts vacated by the resignation of Nikita Khrushchev.
